

Help Me To Know You

Your love, no I don't always feel it
Burning a hole in my heart
And I know you don't try to conceal it
But it seems like we're so far apart

I know it's not it's always a feeling
'Cause feelings they come and they leave

Help me to know you
Help me to love you
Help me to trust you
When you're there but my eyes just can't see
Help me to know you
Help me believe through my unbelief

Your mercies are new every morning
Before I even get out of bed
You've numbered the days set before me
And you know every hair on my head

What more could I ever ask for
When you're all I want love to be

I know it's not it's always a feeling
'Cause feelings they come and they leave
What more could I ever ask for
When you're all I want love to be
