

More than Enough

When I toss and turn
In my sleep I yearn
For peace to still my heart
No more counting debts
I am counting on Your love

On my weakest day
When I feel afraid
To cry an honest tear
No more hiding scars
I am resting in Your arms

You are more than enough for me

In Your mercy found
Where I once was bound
To mourn I'm free to dance
I have everything
I could ever need in You

Oh what more could I want
You captured my heart
And made it whole again
