

Such a Hope

Each time the sun breaks through the clouds
I am hopeful for that day
The day that you return to earth
How I'm longing for that day

A day to heal the suffering
Of a broken world

Chorus:
Every sinner, every saint
Will bow down on bended knee
They will know you
And confess that you are Lord

I have within me such a hope
The salvation of my soul!
My name is written in the book
You made new what once was old

And on that day, you will dry the tears
Of a broken world
